

Editor's Comment:

I would like to know you my decision regarding the manuscript number: 2021/AJPCB/78228 as the following:-

1. The decisions of the reviewers are positive as one of them is accepted the manuscript as its with a very minor correction while the other reviewer is accepted the manuscript with a minor correction mostly include language and grammar correction, which is mean that there is no objection about the idea of the manuscript.
2. I agree with the reviewers that the idea of this manuscript is good and dealing with an important subject and suitable to publish in the Asian Journal of Pregnancy and Childbirth.
3. The author/s is deal with corrections in a good manner and all the requested corrections done so the structure of the manuscript is good and accepted.
4. I found some other corrections in references part should be made by the author/s or editor as the follow:
 1. Line 423-424 the reference is not completed (department, university, country) and need to written in uniform style with other references.
 2. Line 425-426 the same note above.
 3. The name of the journals should be written in one style as currently some is written in italic style (for example line 421, 428, 431,.....) while others not (example are in line 440, 455,)
 4. Line 446-447 need rearrangement and correction of the word (Resolu- tions) to Resolutions)

The final decision I suggest to accept the manuscript for publication publish in the Asian Journal of Pregnancy and Childbirth after doing the corrections mention above.
