Compulsory REVISION comments	In this manuscript, the authors have obtained the first passage time distribution and have estimated the moments of the parameter. The paper is suitable for publish in this journal but before publishing the authors need to read the manuscript carefully and make the changes accordingly. However, I have mentioned the following comments below: 1. In the abstract part, It should be in this article/paper/manuscript instead of in this note. 2. In the introduction part, the range of α is form 0 to 2. But in section 2, the authors have shown the range of α from 1 to 2. Make it clear. 3. In the manuscript, there are many typos of error. I suggest that read the manuscript carefully.
