

Editor's Comment:

The revised manuscript has improved tremendously. Authors have revised the original version according to the comments and suggested by the reviewers, especially the first one. He/she has done a perfect job in pinpointing all the flaws in the first submission.

However, there are a few suggestions to the authors prior to final approval for publication acceptance:

1. Duplicated keywords (same as the paper title) should be re-chosen.
2. Reference format should conform to the requirement prescribed by the Journal.

A thorough proof-check is highly recommended.
