

Editor's Comment:

Regarding the article JERR 89621, I have seen the first and second versions of the article and I see that the authors have satisfied the indications made by the referees. However, I find two issues that need to be amended:

1- There are two references which I marked in yellow that do not follow the system of referencing numbers between square brackets. This needs to be corrected. I am sending the article.

2- The references [20-26] of the References section do not appear referenced in the text of the article. This must also be corrected.

Authors must amend the above and return the article for final review.
