Compulsory REVISION comments
Minor REVISION comments	<ul style="list-style-type: none">- The native English content should be checked.- Some writing rules are not mentioned which should be edited.- I think the treatments of the experiment including dependent and independent factors are not selected accurately. For example, for education level, the farmers population between secondary and college level are not mentioned.- The novelty of the work is ok especially the agro ecological zones which is investigated.- Can you please tell me the differences between different zones? just the climatic conditions or the soil content where different as well?
Optional/General comments
