Compulsory REVISION comments
Minor REVISION comments	For better clarity, I recommend making separate tables for each type of fish, in columns to give indicators by season.
Optional/General comments	The authors have done a lot of work on the study of health, haematology, immunology and serum biochemical components of three marine teleost fishes under the influence of monsoons. A number of patterns of seasonal changes in the studied indicators (WBC, RBC, Hb, HCT MCV, MCH, MCHC, ESR etc.) have been identified. I consider the work worthy of publication.
