Compulsory REVISION comments	The design of this experiment is a little bit easy. Where is the control material? There are less innovative information in this MS. It is more like a textbook, not article. Sem and Tem image, just for the nanocellulose with different zoom level, what is the microstructure for regular or control? TGA and DTG figure, only the results for nanocellulose, it is lack of the cellulose's data. It is essential for the comparison with normal material.
Minor REVISION comments	Abstract section: Rewrite it. Important findings should be concluded and stated. I can't read the figure 1-3
