Compulsory REVISION comments
Minor REVISION comments	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> Page2 row2: rearrange the statement especially "in recent past". There is a big time difference in the presentation of previous research, as authors moved from research in 2009 to research in 2020, which gives a great impression that there is no research in these years or did the researchers not notice this time difference. Therefore, I suggest writing other papers that were published in the years 2015, 2016, 2018, and 2019. The research, especially in the evaluation part, needs clarification and explanation of the results that were reached mathematically, as the authors put the results in tables, and those results were not analyzed and explained. What are the future works of this research? The references are very old and little so you have to update them.
Optional/General comments
