

Editor's Comment:

I strongly recommend publishing the paper in the present revised form. The reasons are as follows:

1. Some reviewers give comments such as“very good article”or“the topic is interesting”.
2. The reviewers' decisions are Accept after minor revision. According to the reviewers' comments, the authors have corrected the paper carefully.
3. In the Author's comment area, the authors give feedback appropriately.

Therefore, the paper has enough value for publication in the International Astronomy and Astrophysics Research Journal.
