Compulsory REVISION comments	The most common remedial measures perceived by the barangay residents are construct a drainage canal, drainage canal maintenance, construct river control, and repair of the existing drainage canal. Many of the barangays still need a considerable length of drainage canals to eliminate in the area. Most of the barangay respondents claimed that the problem is that the drainage canals are not sufficient and some existing drainage canals need repair and so there is a need to construct additional drainage canals and repair existing ones. A significant number of barangay residents asserted there is a need to construct a river control structure to avoid river water coming into their barangay. This is a technical survey with the questionnaire to the respondent, it will be most exiting if adding with some statistical method to described the finding of that survey.
Minor REVISION comments	Less references, it must be to adding the references from 5 years before. The 2 books are used for references are too old, maybe if it possible adding with some journal or book chapter.
