PART 1: Review Comments

	Reviewer's comment	Author's comment (if agreed with reviewer, correct the manuscript and highlight that part in the manuscript. It is mandatory that authors should write his/her feedback here)
Compulsory REVISION comments	This is an interesting study and paper is generally well written. However, in my opinion there are some suggestions regarding the data analysis. As per the data study and Figure 1, there is 0% prevalence of distribution of Trichomonas vaginalis in Age Groups (37-42 years) Among Women Attending Chukwuemeka Odumegwu Ojukwu University Teaching Hospital, Awka, Anambra State, Nigeria. Can the author support the findings citing the possible reasons for such exceptional results in the discussion section? Why not even a single individual doesn't get infected in this age group, any previous literature study to support your findings.
Minor REVISION comments	In references, add some recent studies (last 5 years) to support your study.
Optional/General comments	The findings are important and interesting to the journal's readers.
