Compulsory REVISION comments	This research article was an example for the new dental researcher who wants to gain knowledge about dental implant. The article was well organized and written but required some major correction mostly in the following section 1. Title of the article was too long. Must be shorten 2. Abstract section must be reoriented 3. Result section required to be addition of SD (Standard Deviation) value in the sociodemographic, KAP (knowledge, attitude & Practice) related variable. In addition, it would be better to use attitude scale to strengthen the validity of the result. Moreover, different graphical presentation can be added 4. Discussion section must be reorganized with detailed literature review 5. Reference section must follow either Vancouver or Harvard style
Minor REVISION comments	The grammatical errors must be corrected with avoiding the italicize the text
Optional/General comments
