PART 1: Review Comments

	Reviewer's comment	Author's comment (if agreed with reviewer, correct the manuscript and highlight that part in the manuscript. It is mandatory that authors should write his/her feedback here)
Compulsory REVISION comments	Female pineapple workers in Bangladesh's Moulvibazar district were studied to determine the factors that influence their economic contribution and decision-making. The topic of the paper is interesting and relevant to the household income and decision-making of female pineapple workers. On paper, the study's objectives and hypotheses were ignored. Age, education, work experience, and personal savings all had a positive and significant impact on women's ability to contribute to household income, according to the study's findings. According to the findings of this study, female workers were hindered in their ability to contribute to household income and decision-making due to a variety of factors including low wages, physical injuries, long work hours, a lack of training, and poor working conditions.
Minor REVISION comments	Need objectives.
Optional/General comments	Both the abstract and the objectives should be rewritten.
