It has no purpose of the study no research qu questions, no hypotheses, no findings, and recommendations. I suggest , The Relationship between Violence against Women and Social Development in Peru No ,it is not. There was no research questions or purpose of the study stated, there was a mix up in d research design which is supposed to be a correlational study. The population of the study was not stated, sampling technique was not adequate. There should be a step by step break down of the population in order to arrive at the sample size. No evidence validation and Reliability of the instrument, No findings stated neither recommendations. The writer should revisit the abstract.y yes they are For example, Discussion should be based on the findings of the study . But it was not so . The sjub sections are correct but some of the contents under the subheading should be revisited . It would have been if it were thoroughly researched.A study that has no Findings nor recommendations. Some are recent but more literature needs to be reviewed to beef up the study. Some of d literature reviewed should be expunged because they are not relevant to the study. The study is a correlational study. Editorials , wrong spellings should be corrected. Data collection shd be Instrument for data collection. Describe ur instrument for data collection. Give ur instrument a name.The objectives of the study should be stated using the dimensions of women violence.
Minor REVISION comments 1. Is language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications?	Yes
Optional/General comments	The Writer needs to revisit the entire work. The title is appropriate but it seems the writer did not follow the process to arrive at a result. The process must be followed adequately in order to have a well researched empirical study. The researcher had already known the result even without carrying the study. If all corrections are duly effected. It will be a very good empirical study.
