| Optional/General comments | This article analysed local timber production, timber imports from other countries in to Tamilnadu. Local Demand and supply(imports) factors were shown with appropriate secondary data sources. For local production and also among imports, teak was found to be majorly traded, followed by salwood. The key market participants in the timber trade were producers, traders, agents, wholesalers, retailers and customers. The pricing of teak wood and statistical correlation are established by standard statistical method. This article concludes that local teak price rise has direct impact on the imported teak. | |
