Compulsory REVISION comments	Title: vague wording, will not reach target audience. Suggest concise, to the point and exact detail Abstract: Needs correction of every sentence for English wording. Lot of grammatical errors. Message is not coming across clearly. Introduction: Very parse introduction not specifying prevalence or incidence in general population. Any difference in the local geographic area to be expected in this disease condition? Segue into treatment should be pathophysiology. Final line here should indicate what is the goal of authors in conducting current study, or what are the questions we are answering by conducting this review? Material and methods: Results are included without details of the study. Please indicate if surgery was performed by different people and if yes, pool of how many? Review conducted by using medical records? Were all records available with same level of detail? Were all patients in the hospital with primary diagnosis of IBD? Please write all results separately after more detail added to methods section. A tabular form indicating the surgeries, medical condition of patients, complications would be better if possible. Pictures need arrow marks to indicate findings
