Compulsory REVISION comments	Dear Editor, Although a study has been conducted on the state of access to dentistry during the pandemic period, I cannot say that it has brought an innovation or touched on something unknown. Considering the dates of this retrospective cohort study (although of course it includes the pandemic period), it is difficult to say that it is a current study as of today. However, since it includes important regional data for the pandemic period, it can be considered as a "specific covid 19 pandemic publication (such as specific issue...)". Therefore, I leave the decision about the article to you. In any case, I think the following important points should definitely be corrected: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>References and citations are not prepared according to journal rules and must be corrected ("References must be listed at the end of the manuscript and numbered in the order that they appear in the text. Every reference referred in the text must also present in the reference list and vice versa. In the text, citations should be indicated by the reference number in brackets [3]" ex: For Published paper: 1. Hilly M, Adams ML, Nelson SC. A study of digit fusion in the mouse embryo. Clin Exp Allergy. 2002;32(4):489-98.")</li><li>Use "present" instead of "our" statement.</li><li>Ethics committee approval for the study should be stated in the method section.</li></ul>
