

Editor's Comment:

Before I will make any final decision, based on the reviewers recommendations, I have highlighted some sentences in red that need to be addressed by the authors.

1. The para highlighted in red can be removed as such it has no relevance to the study.
2. Once any project/dissertation is submitted to any Journal its course of action changes, it does not remain a dissertation, thesis or project work. It is a research article and the same needs to be written everywhere throughout MS where project/dissertation is written.
