Compulsory REVISION comments
Minor REVISION comments	The manuscript "An Overview on Coronary Artery Disease and Cardiovascular Stents" is an informative and interesting review. The use of various stents (BMS, DES & RBS) in ischemic heart disease, their advantages, disadvantages and limitations has been highlighted well in the paper. The current market price of various commercially available devices (BMS & DES) in India has been stated. The future prospects of stent technology have also been discussed. I believe that this paper would be useful. However, there are a few minor errors noticed by me (please see the comments given in the manuscript). I, therefore, recommend that this manuscript should be accepted for publication after revising those few errors.
Optional/General comments
