Compulsory REVISION comments	<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. The INTRODUCTION is not written properly. It does not include the importance of the study/work in the light of previous work. It does not include any research gap/need for the study.2. Abbreviations used for the synthesized compounds are confusing. It's good to add a section for abbreviations if the journal allows it.3. The section on "Results and Discussion" is also improper. It lacks references from the previous studies. It must include the discussion of IR and NMR Spectra with valid references. Compound-wise discussion must be included in light of table 2.4. The conclusion should be brief and to the point. It should include the future perspectives of the study.
Minor REVISION comments	<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. English sentence structure issues/errors must be removed.2. The author should give a reference for synthetic methods used.3. In the section on "Spectral Data", the word "Synthesis" must be replaced with some other suitable word/s.4. The section of "Characterization" should be the part of 'Results and Discussion'.
Optional/General comments	<ol style="list-style-type: none">5. Supporting materials/spectra should be provided by the author.
