Compulsory REVISION comments	The title could also make much sense if it included constraints as well as prospects/way forward or solutions, etc Author could have clearly explained the term 'private bio fertilizer' and distinguish it from public bio fertilizer, if that term exists. The research methodology was not explicit and convincing enough. For instance, various issues relating to constraints, challenges, suggestions and way forward could have been explored if the farmers were allowed to explain for themselves rather than resorting only to closed questions. Also, were these closed questions researcher made and tested for validity and reliability, or borrowed from somewhere. Were they exhaustive? Data analysis could have been more rigorous, in my view, rather than just calculating percentages. The references are not consistent and according to format. Only 5 references are current (which is good) but are not enough. Author should add more. The language could also be improved. Author should try to check and correct spellings, grammar, punctuation, etc. More comments are in the attached document which was marked.
