Compulsory REVISION comments	lack of detail methodological design, type of study
Minor REVISION comments	Although the determination of OR indicates prediction, it also relates risk or no risk of some dependent variable, therefore it should be clarified how it is expressed, for example, is it more beneficial or not with respect to..... I should put the value of the OR in the table.
Optional/General comments	Regarding the OR, an example would be, if the OR has a value of 0.9 regarding the variable age < or > 35 years, it would be: there is a 90% probability that ANC is beneficial to one stary group compared to the other, for this should exclude one of the age group variables in the SPSS program in order to be able to compare.
