PART 1: Review Comments

	Reviewer's comment	Author's comment (if agreed with reviewer, correct the manuscript and highlight that part in the manuscript. It is mandatory that authors should write his/her feedback here)
Compulsory REVISION comments	In the methodology, it was not clear from which group of women a random sample was taken. After delivery, the medical records were investigated to extract data from a random sample ? From a random sample, was the outcome for postpartum diabetes mellitus monitored? This was not clear to me.
Minor REVISION comments	In the methodology, the term renal failure is used and I suggest chronic kidney disease because renal failure suggests dialysis patients.
Optional/General comments	The statistical analysis seemed relevant and adequate for the purpose of the article. Blood glucose parameters for oral glucose tolerance test and fasting blood glucose are adequately parameterized although the World Health Organization generalizes more than the large HAPO study and the International Association of Diabetes in Pregnancy Study Group (IADPSG).
