

Editor's Comment:

The subject of the manuscript is scientifically interesting and moreover of important practical concern. The study looks fairly well conducted and the few Reviewers' comments and suggestions have been addressed satisfactorily.

As regards the title of the manuscript, the original title looks, in my opinion, more adequate and informative than the revised one. Perhaps a combination of both might be optimal, for example as :

“Nutritional Value of German Cockroach Meal (Blattela germanica) as a SuperPRO Feed for Poultry in Kenya”

Anyway, this fairly good manuscript deserves being published in AJRAVS.
