

Editor's Comment:

I have gone through all reviewers' reports. They have made very valuable comments to improve the way the paper is written. I would be very happy to read the objective or research question of this paper. If this is the research question, "So, why immigration and racism are so problematic and pronounced in a period of globalization where Human Race in general, must be promoted everywhere?", it needs to be rephrased to read as a paper research question. If this can be corrected, the paper may be published.
