For example how many divorced women, how many divorced men? Could be nice to hear the voice of one or two respondents who are not divorced than having only one sided view Can add some literature on social cultural and norms related to marriage and divorce in Zanzibar. This could help in the interpretation of current trend Narrative data from respondents need a bit of interpretation/analysis from the author visa avis the existing literation and social context of Zanzibar
Minor REVISION comments	The author needs to give a bit of information within the background, related to geographical location of Zanzibar and the social economic context, gender considerations and distribution of roles which may be some of the factors contributing to high rate of divorce
Optional/General comments	Include one or two married respondents, could also consider to have one respondent either from the government or religion body This could be important especially that in one statement the author says that couples are not equipped for marriage; who should equip them?
