

Editor's Comment:

Article title: Production of Fungal Pectin Lyase and Polygalacturonase from fruit wastes by solid state fermentation

I have gone thorough the revised article as well as author response to the reviewers on this article. I have found several spelling mistake (two words and several scientific name (species name)) in the abstract, reference and in the text that i highlighted by red color in the revised manuscript as track change mode. Please consider it during galley proof checking. On the other hand, manuscript is sufficiently improved during revision following the comments of the reviewers.

My editorial decision on this manuscript is accept.
