Compulsory REVISION comments	NIL
Minor REVISION comments	The objective of the paper is not clear.it is found from the table that with increase in pigeon pea the nutrition value increases. If providing nutrition values is objective then sample E could be the best. The authors could not be able to explain properly why panellists accepted the 5%pigeon flour composition (as stated in conclusion) The cost analysis of different samples may help to choose the right one. It is suggested that the statistical data used for analysis may be presented as an annexure.
Optional/General comments	The trend of anti-nutritional properties shown in the table also needs explanation.it is least at 5% and there after suddenly increased in the next sample.
