

Editor's Comment:

The authors provide data demonstrating the effect of Heat Stress on rice and its management. On the basis of the reviewers' reports (appended), the paper should be acceptable for publication in the International Journal of Environment and Climate Change as the authors did some modifications cited by the reviewers. In rewriting the paper, the authors should take special care to address the important comments below from the editor.

General comments

- The topic must be slightly edited, please check the the manuscript, it sounds very broad. Where was the study conducted?
- Please rework the abstract in the format as indicated in the manuscript.
- Any interesting data (tables and figures from the literature cited). Reviewer No.3 also noted this.
