PART 1: Review Comments

	Reviewer's comment	Author's comment (if agreed with reviewer, correct the manuscript and highlight that part in the manuscript. It is mandatory that authors should write his/her feedback here)
Compulsory REVISION comments	This paper studies the ATmega328 microcontroller based motor vehicle engine oil state limitation control system, but does not clarify the role of the microcontroller in the control system, the data and procedures based in the circuit are not presented, and then the design of the tool is directly based on the procedures, which does not support this claim. Also, many core data are missing to verify the principle of the role of the engine speed limiting control system, and this paper directly concludes. There are many reasons that affect the oil pressure, only changing the oil can not solve all the problems, this paper has a single conclusion. (1) The textual description of the circuit design is not clear enough (2) Lack of data on new oil at different temperatures and engine speeds and on the oil that should be changed (3) Lack of specific tool design and specified procedures (4) Lack of comparative data on the difference in pressure conditions between new oil and oil that should be changed
