

Editor's Comment:

The word "deleted" appears on p. 2. I'm not sure why it is there, perhaps a reference was deleted or a number of sentences. Anyway, the word itself needs to be deleted unless there is good reason to keep it there.

After that you can proceed to publication. Though a "micro" account, the paper clearly illustrates the chaos that descended on USA education as the country shut down in March, 2020. Everyone was in survival mode, trying to figure things out as they went along. Also, implicitly, the paper is an argument for general economic development in western Pennsylvania and for greater financial support for education there.

Editor's Details:

Dr. Stan Weeber
Professor, Mc Neese State University in Lake Charles, Louisiana, USA.