Compulsory REVISION comments	The subject and aim of this systematic review study are well presented. I would recommend the publication of this study after considering the following suggestions: - Authors referred to this study as cross-sectional study but in fact it is only a systematic review study that discussed previous cross-sectional studies. - In the abstract, the results section should present the finding of this systematic review study. - For keywords, I am wondering why authors didn't include words like smoking and Indonesian women. - Mistakes in spelling and punctuations throughout manuscript should be corrected. - Table 1 shows only 14 studies but I think there should be 15 studies.
