Compulsory REVISION comments	Manuscript is very poorly written. It needs a profound style and grammar revision. Phrases without a verb, missense sentences, are dispersed all over the text. Major problem arises with the concentration of the extracts, how are they defined and prepared? Say 10% concentration means nothing. How are determined the LC50? What species of Anopheles are used? References need extensive revision. Most of them are not found in Pubmed. Some required revisions are highlighted in yellow in the included manuscript.
