

Editor's Comment:

The subject of the study is of practical interest.

The study looks carried on satisfactorily and, while I may agree with the suggestion of one Reviewer - calling for a more refined and thorough statistical treatment of experimental data - I nevertheless find that, here, the implementation of the Kruskal-Wallis tests alone is rather sufficient and appropriate, considering the restricted and clearly defined, practical object of the study.

So, I consider that the manuscript is OK for publication in AJRAVS.
