

Editor's Comment:

I have reviewed the files corresponding to the Work JERR 98352, "Noninductive control of permanent magnet synchronous motor based on improved synovial observer". I believe that the authors, in their second version of the article, have responded satisfactorily to the remarks made by the referees.

Consequently, I consider that the article can already be published in its second version. With the observation that the authors must change the square brackets of the references in the text, from exponential mode to normal mode of writing.
