Optional/General comments	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Pag. 6 Table 2. Change "colour" for "color" - Pag. 9 Section 3. The sentence "Most ailments such as stomachache, menstrual problems, urinary problems, and diarrhea, can be cured by oral administration of powder, while the inflammation can be cured by topical application » needs some references. - Check all values presented in the review, in son cases units are next to the value, and in other cases units are separated by a single space to the value. - Pag. 13 Correct the word « Analised » (Analized is the correct word) « Recently Bhamare et al. (2022) analysed the nutritional and mineral profile of wild edible ripe and unripe fruit of Meyna laxiflora. In this study author analysed various proximate such as moisture, ash, protein, reducing sugar, ascorbic acid, antioxidant activity and phenols. » - Pag. 13 correct the chemical form of the H₂O₂ by applying subscrits (H₂O₂) - Authors concluded that "The growing of trees for fruit production encourages the obstruction of permanent stands in bares land. Such trees are often a feature of desert landscapes and form the basis of traditional agroforestry land use systems". This should be checked since there is scarce information about the uses of the plant trees in text of the Review.
