Despite the importance of this crop, yields remain below 1.0 t/ha, a long way off, less than potential yield of 2-3t/ha. It is not very clear whether this problem of low yields is as a result of declining soil fertility or changes in climatic condition. Hence the study was done to check for influence of calcium and gibberellic acid on the growth, yield and economics of summer groundnut ( Arachis hypogaea L.) Yes Somewhat, could have been written better  Separate result and Discussion would have been better Yes  Yes
Minor REVISION comments 1. Is language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications?	Not very much up to the mark
Optional/General comments	Many grammatical errors, also lack of many references
