

Editor's Comment:

I recommend to publish the paper in the final revised form. The reasons are as follows:

- 1- One of reviewers gives comment such as "The paper has an importance in the field of relativistic physics and quantum physics"
- 2- Some reviewers give comments such as "Accept after major revision"
- 3- Some reviewers give comments such as "Accept after minor revision".

According to the comments, the authors have corrected the paper carefully.

Therefore, the paper has enough value for publication in the International Astronomy and Astrophysics Research Journal.
