

Editor's Comment:

The subject of the manuscript is of practical concern.

Of course, Authors may disagree with Reviewers, but in such case, they must explain and justify, in the feed-back to Reviewers, why they disagree. Otherwise, it would be fine, to improve the manuscript, to actually consider these recommendations in the revised version of the manuscript.

I invite the Authors to conform to these prescriptions, in order that the manuscript might be considered satisfying for publication in IJECC.
