

Editor's Comment:

I am sorry to say that the revision made by the author is not sufficient. Only the abstract and several sentences in the introduction have been changed. I recommended a more thorough revision of the discussion component — adding the discussion section, in which the author would interpret the findings through the lens of previous studies. That would improve the potential contribution of the study to the literature.

Editor's Details:

Dr. Vasilii Erokhin
School of Economics and Management, Harbin Engineering University, China.