If you have suggestion of additional references, please mention in the review form. (Apart from above mentioned 6 points, reviewers are free to provide additional suggestions/comments)	1. yes, because it addresses environmental issues and these are relevant to humanity, given that resources are finite and must be managed sustainably over time. I believe that the research will be better directed if it addresses in its scope beyond the impact of the correlation between actions that foster good environmental corporate practices, including in these effective actions such as, for example, relating in these the savings that social responsibility and environmental management can bring to not only banks, but to all humanity, I see in this context values to be discussed in a scientific and academic way. The article has great potential if it addresses this topic that I am suggesting 2. Adjust to include a subheading with corporate social responsibility and environmental stewardship bringing economic and social results. 3. It should be adjusted to better compose this point about the economic and social aspect construct 4. Include the two subtopics, environmental management, construction of economic and social values by large corporations based on the ESG concept 5. OK, just tweak and include my suggestion, it will be better presented and address gains and what needs to be done to improve environmental management over time. 6. include topics on the construct environmental management and corporate social responsibility and sustainability. I believe that the publication will be better directed if it includes the suggestion I mentioned, it will demonstrate that, in addition to being sustainable, environmental management brings qualitative and quantitative returns over time for companies, for society and for the planet itself.
