

Editor's Comment:

The case study manuscript (Gitelman Syndrome presenting as Hypokalemic Periodic Paralysis : A Case Report) and the reviewers' comments. This article is not acceptable because it is not written according to the guidelines of the journal. References should not be used in the abstract section. Reference numbers in the text of the article must be started in order. But in this article, the first reference in the text is reference number 10.

The number, caption and legends are not written for the table. Pictures do not have number, caption and legends. One of the images is scanned from a book and cannot be used in article in this format. The image used from the book must be referenced in the references. All references must be revised according to guide for the author of this journal.

Editor's Details:

Dr. Hadi Yousefi
Assistant professor, Khoy University of Medical Sciences, Iran.