

Editor's Comment:

The manuscript is interesting and will certainly attract the attention of the readers. But I have some comments:

- 1) I wonder whether it is necessary to write the title of Figures above and below the Figures?
- 2) there is no statistics in Table 1. It is necessary to indicate the significance of differences between values (like: 'values with the same letters do not differ statistically according to Duncan test at $p < 0.05$ ')
- 3) In Table 1 and below the content of protein, minerals, etc should be given per kg or given in %. Simple 'g' should not be used
- 4) the Brix value should be given in %
- 5) the authors should check the refenece list (i) using one and the same style and (ii) using Italics for Latin names of plants.
