Compulsory REVISION comments Is the manuscript important for scientific community? (Please write few sentences on this manuscript) 1. Is the title of the article suitable? (If not please suggest an alternative title) Is the abstract of the article comprehensive? 2. Are subsections and structure of the manuscript appropriate? 3. Do you think the manuscript is scientifically correct? 4. Are the references sufficient and recent? If you have suggestion of additional references, please mention in the review form. (Apart from above mentioned 6 points, reviewers are free to provide additional suggestions/comments)	Possibly it is important, but the significance of that study strongly depends on the amount of information that could be provided. The more is provided, the better. Yes Yes, however, it has just three sentences. Please read them carefully and produce more, if it is possible. Yes more or less fine Please do not write Doi, write DOI instead through all the references. They are sufficient and recent. When I put dots and divide into parts sentences – I am thinking: "Possibly I am writing the article" because it is the style of the author, from one hand. From the other – it is absolutely inappropriate to leave as it is.
Minor REVISION comments Is language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications?	Frankly said, the quality of English is suitable for a scholar, but a review article is a quite professional stuff It is very hard to read it when the sentence begins from a non-capital letter, moreover when there is no dot. Also, I ought to insert parts of the Object sometimes, that were missing, and so on. In addition, it is better to use "etc." instead of "so on", as the latter is common for a speaking speech.
Optional/General comments
