(Apart from above mentioned 6 points, reviewers are free to provide additional suggestions/comments)	The manuscript provides original and relevant information for the subject of study. The Abstract is correct. The structure and sections of the manuscript are correct. The work is scientifically correct. However, in my opinion, it is necessary to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Material and methods: Include a brief paragraph on how measurements of temperature, pH, dissolved oxygen (DO) and ammonia concentration values in water were made during the experiment. - Conclusions; In addition to this synthesis of the results, include a couple of paragraphs commenting on what conclusions may emerge from this. - Reference style: References must be listed at the end of the manuscript and numbered in the order that they appear in the text. Every reference referred in the text must also present in the reference list and vice versa. In the text, citations should be indicated by the reference number in brackets [3].
Minor REVISION comments 1. Is language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications?	I include in the manuscript several corrections of spacing, format and etc. They are included in the manuscript, with "change control" mode.
Optional/General comments	I recommend removing Figure 1 as it duplicates the information given in Table 2
