Compulsory REVISION comments	I would strongly suggest the author(s) to read the author's guidelines of this journal: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Abstract: should also contain methodology and conclusion. 2. Introduction: In the text, citations should be indicated by the reference number in brackets [1]. 3. Material and methods: Give adequate information to allow the experiment to be reproduced. 4. Results and discussions: I would suggest using a statistical analysis that enables us to see the significant difference in the results. Data on the nonjudicial use of nitrogen fertilizer should also be provided to support statements: "Along with the innate acidity of laterite soils, nonjudicial use of nitrogen fertilizers in paddy fields, such as ammonium sulfate, ammonium nitrate, and urea are also the major reasons for high E_a in these series". Table headings should be placed above the table. 5. References: References must be listed in the order that they appear in the text. Every reference referred to in the text must also be present in the reference list and vice versa.
