Optional/General comments	Authors have studied effect of organic and liquid manure on yield and economic attributes to urd bean. Their results are very encouraging and of economic importance in terms of seed yield and finally financial value. Literature has been surveyed very well. Language is good. Data presented in tabular form is good. Statistical analysis has been done but the data has not been presented in figure and graphical form, which is more easy to understand the results. In my opinion paper is acceptable but if the graphic figures will be added before publication it will improve the quality of paper.
