

Editor's Comment:

It appears that the "conclusion" section of the manuscript was of most concern to the reviewers. After reviewing the original and the resubmission, it appears the author made satisfactory changes. It should be noted, that perhaps one more proof of the manuscript for it's ease of reading in English is necessary, and some formatting should be considered regarding paragraph length should be considered, especially in the conclusion. Should those be taken into consideration, the manuscript should be ready for publication.
