

Editor's Comment:

Gone through the ms. Corrections highlighted in RED color can be retained. Yellow highlighted one require changes/corrections by author. As there is mixture of citations for journal in reference chapter. It is important and without following author guide lines and making it uniform it is difficult to give decision. in some reference journal name is abbreviated, in some italics, in some full citation. Suggest author to follow standard journal guideline and only one citation method.

As a whole the work is satisfactory and the paper can be accepted for publication after making moderate correction in reference chapter.
