

Editor's Comment:

I read the case study manuscript (An unusual case of acute obstructive kidney failure on renal transplant complicating a pulmonary Covid 19 infection) and the reviewers' comments. The authors have not corrected the comments of the reviewers, thus it is not acceptable in this form. The author has not given a convincing answer to the reviewers and the article has basic mistakes, especially in the references section. There are several comments in the main text that need to be revised.
